HARBORSIDE,
PLYMOUTH, MASS.

July 20

Dear Miss Whitney.-

Had I
picked a flower from your garden it might still be a joy to my sight and the little
visit to you in your room - the sight of
your dear face
and the music of

the voice so familiar
and so loved by us
all - I must not
try to tell you how it has gladdened my heart - what an ever present joy it is to me - Now I shall carry it with me to the Fatherland

days when as in the past my daughter and I will read from poems and
renew the pleasant
hours.

I fear that I ought not to stop all this - It is not disturbance but deep reality. Permit it to be - Yours sincerely W. P. Rogers.
